What if the world ended yesterday?
I Thessalonians 4:13-18

I. When would we find out?
   a. We would not have known two days ago. (Matthew 24:42-44; 25:13; I Thessalonians 5:2)
   b. We would not be finding out today. (I Thessalonians 4:13-18; 2 Peter 3:10)

II. If the world ended yesterday, many things would be no more.
   a. There would be no more unbelievers. (Romans 14:10-12)
   b. There would be no more division in matters of faith. (I Corinthians 1:10; John 17)
   c. There would be no more uncommitted members in the kingdom of God. (Revelation 3:15-16)
   d. There would be no more tomorrow. (James 4:13-15)
   e. There would be no more evangelism and no more hope for the lost. (Luke 16:22-31)
   f. There would be no more concern about earthly things. (2 Peter 3:10-11; Mark 8:36; I Timothy 6:7)
   g. The “more convenient season” would have passed. (Acts 24:25; 2 Corinthians 6:2)

III. If the Lord came yesterday, we would all be in eternity now.
   a. Those who have been faithful in this life would be with the Lord in heaven. (I Thessalonians 4:17; Revelation 21:4)
   b. The majority of people would be in hell. (Matthew 7:13-14)
   c. If the Lord came yesterday, you would have been judged according to your works. (Revelation 20:12)

IV. Would you have any regrets?
